MFC 2000 SERIES NAVAL MULTIFUNCTION CONSOLES

Saab's MFC 2000 consoles are COTS based and highly flexible in relation to both setup and software. The consoles are available in both horizontal and vertical models with either single, dual or triple screen configurations according to requirements. The consoles are completely silent and emits virtually no heat.

The consoles guarantee a clean and uncluttered workspace with adjustable pointing devices, recessed keyboard and tiltable screens. Put together this provides the operator with easy to use, intuitive controls.

The MFC 2000 series is designed to be among the most lightweight naval consoles on the market, but still able to meet MIL-901D Shock requirements.

Our consoles are based on electronic modules which make them a secure and cost efficient long term choice. The modules can be upgraded and/or replaced individually, without having to go through severe maintenance or even a complete change of the console.

Of course the modules have built-in protection against EMC, vibration, shock, temperature fluctuations, etc. Because our consoles employ external computers you have the freedom of choice when it comes to both computer type and operating system, but can also be equipped with traditional internal computers.
